CHICKS SELL FAST

Mrs. W. W. Stofft of 457 West Stocker, who advertised Buff Leghorn baby chicks for sale in the Monday edition of the Evening News, had to telephone the paper Tuesday morning to discontinue the ad. She had seventy fluffy babies to dispose of when the ad was placed but as soon as boys began to deliver papers in the afternoon her phone began to ring and her stock was quickly sold. She says she could have marketed many more, and is well pleased with the returns from the advertising.

"OUR LORD'S RETURN"

DR. FRENCH E. OLIVER AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Scripture reading Matt. 24-11:51. Many false prophets shall rise and shall deceive many. The love of many shall wax cold but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved and this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come. There shall arise false Christs and false prophets and shall show great signs and wonders; insomuch that, if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect—believe it not.

If all the rulers of the nations were to meet in Albert Hall in England and were asked the question: "Do you think that Christ will soon come again to reign on the throne of David?" if all the governors of the states met and were asked this question, no doubt they would answer in the negative. If the ministers of the different churches meeting together were asked the same, the majority would think not. These ungodly rulers and apostate ministers deny the words of the Lord Himself who said: "Be ye also ready for in such an hour as ye think not the son of man cometh." The Bible refers five times as many times to the Lord's second coming as to the first. One in twenty-five

ELKS' CLUB TO CATER

OPENS REGULAR DINING ROOM FOR MEMBERS AND THEIR FRIENDS

For some time members and officials of the Glendale Elks Club have been considering the possibility of opening a regular dining room and catering department and now the talk is materializing into reality.

The return from the war of Walter Butterly, who is a professional caterer, gave impetus to the project, a decision was reached to start in a small way for the benefit of members resident in the Club House and last night, Tuesday evening, the first regular dinner was served there.

Quite a little preparation has been necessary for even so modest a beginning. The Dutch Room has been furnished with new tables, with rugs, a sideboard, new linen, dishes and silver. In the kitchen a steam table has been placed and an equipment of utensils.

It is not intended as a money making proposition but rather to serve the comfort and convenience of members, many of whom received the idea with enthusiasm as soon as it was broached and announced their intention of coming to the club with their families and friends for lunches and dinners, particularly on Sundays.

Though it is an experiment to be carefully tested, it is hoped that it will work out so satisfactorily that it will become a permanent institution.

PARK AND MEMORIAL

The recommendations of the mass meeting at Glendale Union High School last week will be presented to the Board of Trustees of Glendale next Thursday evening at its regular meeting by Richardson D. White, chairman of the Park and Memorial Committee, who has asked all the other members of the committee representing the 43 Glendale organizations which have sent delegates to committee sessions, to be present. Mr. White states that he would also be glad to have present at that meeting any other citizens of Glendale who are interested in this subject. It will convene at 8 o'clock.

A BEE DRIVE

The familiar humming sound of a swarm of bees out in the street in front of Mrs. M. E. Shropshire's home on Everett street a day or two ago aroused the memories of by-gone days on the old farm when the periodical swarming occurred, so she hurried out to investigate. There they were, circling about in the air, so grabbing a tin pan, and summoning a neighbor, Mrs. H. F. Daugherty, to the rescue, she darted out and frantically began sounding the tocsin to lure the bees to a resting place. Finally they settled down on a tree limb and then began frantic efforts to get them hived. Finally a hive was procured and Mrs. J. W. Durham of West Elk avenue came "panoplied for war" and the angry buzzers were safely stowed away to begin piling up sweets for the conqueror.

DEATH OF MRS. JOHN J. BANTA

Mrs. Emily Banta, beloved wife of John J. Banta, died in Los Angeles, this morning (Wednesday, April 23, 1919), at the home of the nurse under whose care she had been in an illness which has lasted about four years. She was born at Southport, Indiana, and was 59 years old. She had been a resident of California for sixteen years and of Glendale for about ten years. Funeral services will be held at the Scovern Parlors Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, with interment in Hollywood Cemetery.

Delegates from sixty-seven Unions will gather, give reports, discuss live topics and plan for future work. The forty-two departments of the organization will be represented by their respective superintendents and addresses will be given by the state president, Mrs. Stella Irvine, Mrs. Julia Phelps, County President Miss Ethel Palmer, Mrs. M. W. Law, Mrs. Esther Griffith, Mr. James Walton and Hon. Charles H. Randall.

WITHDRAWAL OF ITALIAN DELEGATES

INTIMATION ITALY WILL START SEPARATE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS WITH GERMANY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, April 23.—President Wilson issued a statement today firmly declaring that the United States must stand by the principles it has already enunciated in making its decision on Italian claims. He declares it is impossible to make a new set of principles for the Balkan states and said Fiume cannot be given to Italy, but must be made available as a seaport for the small nations behind it.

President Wilson pointed out that conditions are different now from what they were when the pact of London was signed in 1917. Austria-Hungary has disintegrated and new Balkan states have been formed. He declared the peace conference must abide by his fourteen points and by the terms of the armistice.

Some delegates today declared that the deadloock on the Italian question is more serious today following last night's conference between Lloyd George and Premier Orlando.

The Italians intimate they will start negotiations for a separate peace with Germany, expecting to obtain coal in Germany and food from the Ukraine instead of from the United States and England.

Paris, April 23.—Late today a member of the Italian delegation declared that President Wilson's statement has broken up the peace conference. He said Premier Orlando will leave for Rome tonight and the remainder of the Italian delegation will go as quickly as possible.

HORACE KARR UNDER CROSS-EXAMINATION

CHARGES THAT HUGHES, McALEER AND WOODMAN WERE THE "GANG" IMPLICATED IN BRIBERY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Los Angeles, April 23.—Horace Karr, chief witness for the prosecution in the case against Mayor Woodman of Los Angeles, went under cross-examination shortly before noon today.

In five minutes it was plain the examination was to be spirited.

"Now whom do you consider the master crook in all this scheming?" Attorney Davis, for Mayor Woodman, asked Karr.

"Well, if he listened to me and did not kick me out of his office when I put the plan up to him, I would say Mayor Woodman was the 'master crook,'" Karr replied.

Karr declared that Tom Hughes, Owen McAleer and Mayor Woodman were the "gang" implicated in the alleged bribery deal.

"I am testifying here because I became convinced that Hughes, Woodman and McAleer were going to leave a sinking ship and let me go down with it," he declared.

It developed in the course of the questioning that a written agreement, whereby Karr is to have immunity, exists. Judge Willis ordered that the agreement be produced in court.

New York, April 23.—Robert Gayon, secretary to Mexican General Blanquet, declared today:

"We have reason to believe that Blanquet is still alive, and expect important news from him in a few days."

The Mexican government officially announced that Blanquet died several days ago. Gayon said that on the day Blanquet was reported killed, his forces had captured Medillan, in the state of Vera Cruz, and had entered the suburbs of Vera Cruz City.

G. U. H. S. VAUDEVILLE

STUDENTS PUTTING ON SOMETHING NEW IN THE WAY OF A VARIETY SHOW

A vaudeville which promises to be quite different from the regulation program on the variety stage can be enjoyed in Glendale this week for a very moderate price and in amusement it will probably yield more solid satisfaction to patrons than the majority of professional performances. It is the High School vaudeville which is booked for three performances at the school auditorium, viz., Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, Thursday and Friday nights at 8 p. m.

A big preliminary sale of tickets has taken place, the majority reserved, and it is safe to say many Glendale ticket holders are anticipating a fine program which will include clever acrobatic stunts by distinguished local athletes, two plays by members of the dramatic class, wonderful jazz music by musicians possessed of special talent in that eccentric line, whistling numbers by a clever girl student, choruses by the Girls' Glee Club and the Boys' Glee Club and, of course, some demonstrations by the School Orchestra wherever they will fit in with finest effect.

It will be a big show and the money's worth. Every citizen interested in the school ought to take it in.

POPCORN IN SCHOOL GARDENS

Miss Helen White, head of Agriculture and Nature Study in the Glendale Grade Schools, states that the school garden plats have this year been planted to popcorn for which there is always a market. She is confident that the experience the juvenile gardeners will have in the cultivation of this crop, together with the work which will be required of them in the care of plants and shrubs on the school grounds, will give them as valuable instruction as would the vegetable gardens which were frequently raided by thieves last year who thus destroyed the fruits of the children's labor.

DR. ECKLES HOME

Dr. J. E. Eckles arrived at home Monday evening from Polk, Nebraska, where he had been summoned two weeks before by news of the serious condition of his mother, who had suffered a second stroke of cerebral hemorrhage. He arrived there on Monday the 7th, and his mother died the following Sunday, the 13th. She was 61 years of age. Her husband, one son and a daughter are still living at the old home. Dr. Eckles says his train was stalled in a snowdrift as he was going, and there were several snowstorms during the first week he was there. He says he never saw a finer prospect for wheat and regular farm work was starting as he left for home.

MONTH'S AUTO TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Bosserman and their son Lyman will leave some day this week on an auto trip to Sacramento and San Francisco. It is to be a combined business and pleasure tour on which they will stop at various towns and it will probably be a month before they again see Glendale. During their absence Miss Rose Appel will spend some time at the Bosserman home. Mrs. Bosserman has a special reason for going as she is the delegate of the L. A. Ebell Club to the convention of the federation of musical clubs which will be held in Oakland next week and which will have its headquarters at the Oakland Hotel. Other representatives from this district will be Mrs. Jamison, who is the vice-president of the Music Federation, and Mrs. Frankel of Hollywood, Chairman of Music for the District Federation of Women's Clubs.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair except cloudy or foggy tonight and in the early morning near the cosat.

COMFORTING PREVISION

HOPE FOR THE FUTURE IN MRS. CRAIG'S WONDERFUL DRAMA

An audience of not less than five hundred ladies, the majority members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, gathered at the Palace Grand Theatre Tuesday afternoon to enjoy a beautiful and unusual program given by the celebrated playwright, Marian Craig Wentworth, author of "War Brides." It was a reading by the author of "Bonfires of Old Empires," which had a year's run in New York City and was interrupted in its tour of the country by the influenza epidemic. It is a symbolic play, and expresses the vision which has come to Mrs. Craig of what the war really means and what it will accomplish. It is a picture of the struggle of the little nations for freedom and is comforting in its optimism concerning the final peace that is coming to all the world based on freedom.

Briefly the play sets forth the conflicting emotions of a young officer who has been sent to quell a rebellion in one of the little countries, presumably a Balkan state, who is faced with the necessity of executing the brother of his sweetheart and possibly his sweetheart herself for their participation in the struggle for freedom. The moving appeal of the woman he loves to listen to the call of the gods is hard to resist and when she leaves him he falls asleep and has a vision of the gods which the audience also sees presented upon the screen in very beautiful moving pictures representing Time, Peace and the Spirit of Freedom on the mountain top overlooking the world. Time declares the world must be awakened and is about to send Peace when the young Spirit of Freedom asks to go instead, declaring that although suffering and sorrow will come with the awakening it will mean ultimate joy to the world. So he goes forth and whispers to the depressed patriot who, inspired anew, leads a revolt against tyranny and though he is led away in chains, he goes sustained by the vision of a freedom that is coming to his country. The spirit of freedom visits the little nations represented by female figures in black robes sitting amid the ashes of desolation, some of them manacled. He tells them he has come to bring them freedom and bids them arise, which they do with the light of a new hope in their faces as their chains fall asunder. Then the bon-

SUNDAY SCHOOL VISITATIONS PLANNED

A meeting of the executive committee of the Glendale District, Los Angeles County Sunday School Association met last night to plan future work. It was decided to consolidate the offices of secretary and treasurer and thus release H. H. Faries for more pressing duties. A committee on publicity and visitations was created and he was made chairman of it, the president of the District, H. L. Finlay, to appoint two assistants. It is planned by the committee with the aid of volunteer helpers, to visit all of the 23 Sunday Schools of the District next Sunday and give in each a five-minute talk on the plans and purposes of the association. A meeting of this committee will be held Friday evening at the home of Mr. Faries to complete visitation plans.

VICTORY LOAN DRIVE

HEADQUARTERS SECURED ON BRAND BLVD.—TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB GIVES $300

Headquarters for the Victory Loan chairmen and workers have been secured in a very central location on Brand boulevard, just one door north of the postoffice. A telephone is being installed which bears the number Gl. 2035.

A secretary is on hand to meet all comers and provide supplies for the workers who will canvass the various precincts. While Glendale has been late in the race her captains will make up for loss of time by strenuous work and zeal.

A heartening subscription has been received from the Tuesday Afternoon Club, which yesterday voted to invest $300 of its funds in bonds of the Victory Loan.

It is probable that other organizations will follow this example. Under the last count Glendale had forty-five organized bodies. If all of these boost for the Victory Loan by the actions which speak louder than words, the task laid out for the unselfish workers in the drive will be much lightened.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23, 1919

THE BREAD QUESTION

Perhaps there is no article of food today on which prices vary so much as on bread. What is called "best bread" is selling in Glendale today at 10c, 11c, 12½c, 13c for a 24-ounce loaf. The higher price is the prevailing one and the majority of the city bakers and those of Glendale, also, claim that a good, wholesome, sanitary loaf cannot be mixed and baked to sell, retail, for less than 12½c. The retailers are not to blame, for they are making a far smaller profit now than when bread was retailing at 10c for a full-size loaf. But, taking into consideration the great increase in the price of raw materials, bread is the cheapest food commodity in the market today, and the reason criticism is centered on it is because it is the most generally used article of food. Flour is one-third higher and shortening three to four times higher than when a loaf sold for 10c. Wages are nearly twice as high, wrapping paper three times as high, and, in fact, all delivery costs doubled or more. Either there was an unusual profit in bread making in the days of the 10c loaf or it should sell at 20c now.

The concensus of opinion now is that we can look for no decrease in bread prices for years—if at all—but that an increase is not improbable. Should we not be thankful, however, that we can get good, wholesome bread at such a comparatively slight advance in price when millions of people in war-torn Europe cannot get it at any figure?

"CAROTHERS OF LOS ANGELES"

Peter Clark MacFarlane, a writer of international fame, has a most thrilling true story of marvelous seamanship and cool bravery displayed by officers and crew of a wrecked destroyer, in last week's issue of a great weekly magazine. It tells of an unavoidable collision between the destroyer Shaw and the great 52,000-ton Aquitania with 12,000 soldiers aboard. The Shaw's rudder jammed and her captain divined instantly that to proceed as she was then pointed meant that she would ram and sink the big liner, while to retard her speed meant that she would be rammed by the liner and probably sunk. He instantly chose the latter alternative and signalled to reverse the engines to "full speed astern." The result was that 90 feet of the front of his little vessel was shorn off by the liner and half her crew killed. By wonderful seamanship the wreck was taken into port under her own steam. The part of the story of special interest to Evening News readers was an incident of the rescue of the wounded clinging to the wreck when it seemed she must go down any minute. A companion destroyer rushed to accomplish this work and stopped to pick up a man who said he was "Carothers of Los Angeles." He cheerily called out that he was all right and for them to go to the aid of the wounded. They did so, but on their return to pick him up "Carothers of Los Angeles" had disappeared. He was undoubtedly washed off the sloping deck into the sea and drowned. Thus he literally gave his life for others.

LET US BE PATIENT

Much impatience is expressed by some over the time consumed in the peace conference, yet in contrast to former days they have made marvelously rapid progress. The Congress of Vienna, which met in 1815, soon after the battle of Waterloo and the final capture of Napoleon, took over a year, and though it had the map of Europe to make over, the task was not nearly as large as the one the "Big Four" have been wrestling with the past few weeks. There have been and still are wide diversities of opinion and views to reconcile. France and Belgium, still smarting from the awful outrages of the Germans upon their women and children and the devastation visited on their helpless cities, demanded reparation and indemnities far beyond the figures deemed wise by President Wilson. England, remembering the wanton slaughter of helpless inhabitants of London and other open cities, and Italy, depending on her secret treaty of 1915 for annexations of Adriatic provinces, were nearly as vindictive as France and Belgium. While no blame was attached to any of the four countries for their demands, still Germany's ability to pay had to be reckoned with. Then the Bolshevik menace and quarrels between opposing small states, as well as between Ireland and England, added new complications daily. It is now confidently predicted that all will be harmony in a few days, the Germans will be called to submit to the terms proposed and then President Wilson will leave for home, presumably between May 15 and 20. Doubtless Congress will be called in special session soon after that to ratify the treaty. So let us be patient, for all will be well.

COUNTRY WARNED OF TIMBER SHORTAGE

Warning the country of a coming timber shortage and the acute paper situation, Percival S. Ridsdale, secretary of the American Forrestry Association, recently gave some startling facts as to conditions confronting the United States following the war. Ridsdale, who has just returned from France, where the offer to aid in restoring that country was accepted, said:

"War reached its hand to the farthest corners of the earth and the reckoning of a settlement is now puzzling the brains of the world. In round numbers the cost of the war to the world is placed at 197 billions of dollars. The secretary of war has said that every child born for the next one hundred years will have a part of the bill to pay. What are we doing to lighten that burden?

"In no field did the hand of war reach farther or do greater damage than in forestry. Pictures of the devastation in France are familiar to all of us. A fight went on in other quarters of the globe to satisfy the call of war that was just as overwhelming as that of the battle line. The sound of the crashing to earth of timber trees and the whir of the saw.

"New England is no longer self-supporting in timber resources.

"A timber area in Minnesota, equal to that of Massachusetts, was wiped out by fire last fall, with but passing notice.

"Had the war come fifteen years later, we would have been hard put to meet the call for lumber.

"Southern pine manufacturers state the bulk of the original supplies of yellow pine in the South will be exhausted in ten years and 3,000 lumber plants will go out of existence.

"It is estimated that for every forty billion feet board measure of merchantable lumber seventy billion feet are wasted in the field or at the mill.

"We have all seen our newspapers jump in price against the will of the publisher. Ask the first newspaper man you meet about the cost of white paper and he will tell you the question is his nightly nightmare. Paper conservation should be taken up in the schools, as it has by thousands of business concerns. The situation is acute.

"The American Forestry Association, through its campaign for planting memorial trees, is educating the American people to the values of forestry. The Association aims to register every tree planted and a marker has been designed for these trees. Plans are also going forward for tree planting on a wholesale scale, so that our forests may be replenished before it is too late.

"Just how acute the situation is may be seen in the warning by Col. Henry S. Graves, a vice-president of the American Forestry Association and forester of the United Press. He puts it this way:

"The experience of the war called sharp attention to the condition of our remaining timber supplies. The bulk of the material for general construction was obtained from a few large centers of original forest, often involving long rail hauls and high cost. Extreme difficulties were encountered in obtaining promptly an adequate supply of specialized products, like some of the high grade hardwoods. If the emergency had come fifteen years from now we would have had very great embarrassment in obtaining even the lumber needed for general construction, except at a great sacrifice in time, cost and crowding of the railroads.

"The planting of memorial trees as suggested by the American Forestry Association is of the greatest educational value in directing attention to forestry. Large forest areas should be planted, not only this year, but every year. We fought to establish the frontiers of freedom, but what are we going to do about maintaining those frontiers? The forests of France kept the Hun from reaching Paris. Will our forests keep the scourge of flood and desert waste from overwhelming our land? We must answer now the call of the children who will be born in the next hundred years."

fires of old empires begin to flame and the spirit of freedom calls upon France and England and finally America in the name of freedom and the armies of those nations are seen hurrying to the rescue illuminated by the flames of these crumbling empires. Then the spirit of Freedom returns to the mountain top and is reproached by Peace because he has laid her world in ruin, but he assures her it will be rebuilt on a surer foundation and Peace is sent to heal the wounds of revolution and a lovely landscape with a plowman turning the soil to make it ready for grain to feed the world is seen.

Awakening from the vision the soldier understands the call of the gods referred to by his sweetheart and when the guards come to arrest her and lead him to the court-martial tribunal over which he is to preside, he resigns his commission and declares his allegiance to the struggling people, preparing to join the ranks of those who are to perish for their convictions, but instead of the officers of arrest he hears a joyous shout of singing multitudes and his beloved bursts into the room crying: "Do you not hear what they are saying? We are free!" And then he hears the declaration "The Emperor has abdicated! The Emperor has abdicated!"

Mrs. Craig explained in her prologue that at the time the play was written no abdication had taken place but the logic of events was so plain to her that she ended the play in that manner. Critics found much fault with it, however, as being premature, and so a different ending was made until the actual abdication took place.

The text of the play is beautiful and convincing, and the screen embellishment which was impressionistic, and which was accompanied by music furnished by Mrs. L. N. Hagood at the piano, was highly effective, and made a deep impression. Mrs. Craig has a thrilling, vibrant voice and presented her vision of what is coming to the world in a manner which made it very convincing.

Prior to the program was a brief business session at which excellent reports of the district convention were made by Mrs. E. H. Willisford and Mrs. J. H. Daugherty. Mrs. E. D. Yard made an appreciative report of a reciprocity meeting of the East Whittier Club, which she had attended as the representative of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, and Mrs. Willisford reported on behalf of the Board of Directors that $300 of the Club funds were available for investment in bonds of the Victory Loan, and the Club voted to so invest them.

The president reported that excellent progress was being made in the membership drive under the direction of Mrs. Norton and that its conclusion would be celebrated with a rose tea Tuesday afternoon, April 29th. The meeting ended with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" with Mrs. Hagood at the piano.

P.-T. A. FEDERATION MEETING

An executive meeting of the Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations was held Monday afternoon at the Intermediate School at which reports were presented which showed that the Federation is larger than ever before.

Mrs. John Robert White, as chairman of finance, reminded those present of the May Festival, which is to be held as a benefit for all the Parent-Teacher Associations of the city at the home of Mrs. Ella Richardson, May 16th, from 3:30 to 11 p. m. The program, she stated, will include a flower show, a baby show, a pet stock show, and refreshments, and there will be booths where aprons, caps and cooked food will be sold.

Announcement was also made that the Glendale Federation will be hostess at the convention of Parent-Teacher Associations which is to be held in Los Angeles Thursday and Friday of this week.

By vote of the organization the secretary was instructed to address a communication to Governor Stephens asking that the bills increasing the state and county apportionments to schools be signed by him.

Announcement was also made of the State Convention to be held at Santa Cruz May 27th, 28th and 29th to which the Glendale organization is entitled to send one delegate.

ELKS' CLUB NOTES

At the meeting next Monday night quite a large class of new members will be presented for initiation.

Last Monday night Stanley Frentz was duly installed as the third trustee. Until now the Lodge has not had a full board for over a year, owing to resignations and absences.

Members in close touch with its affairs report the Lodge as booming with many new members coming in. An effort has been made to increase the membership this year to 1000 and this hope seems likely to be realized.

Next Friday night Lodge members and their ladies will be guests of the Drill Team at a dance, to be given at the Club House.

CAMPAIGN ON TO ABOLISH DIRECT PRIMARY

WASHINGTON, April 23. — The campaign in numerous state legislatures to abolish the direct primary system in favor of the old convention plan apparently is not gathering great support among congressmen generally.

Out of a score of congressmen, asked for their views on the comparative merits of the two systems, only two declared in favor of the convention plan and both of these refused to talk for publication. Both have been numbered among the opponents of the primary system from the time it was suggested.

Nearly all the others while declaring for the principle of the primary, advocated some change in the particular law in force in their home state.

The argument of primary opponents that the primary has lowered the standard of ability in Congress was met with the reply from congressmen that the standard has not been lowered and they pointed out that since the advent of the primary Congress has passed such measures as the Federal Reserve Act, the Parcel Post Act and Rural Credits Law.

Here are some of the typical expressions:

Rep. Baer, N. D.: "The reactionary politician cannot control the primary elections and therefore he wants to get back to the old boss ridden convention system."

Rep. Knutson, of Minnesota, new Republican whip: "The primary system is preferable to the old convention plan because it gives the average voter a larger voice in the affairs of his party."

Rep. Gard, Ohio: "We have had the primary system in Ohio for many years and I certainly hope we shall keep it."

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Weatherbee and little daughter of San Diego motored up last Saturday and visited until Tuesday with A. F. Webster and family, 208 W. Elk Ave. The Websters and Weatherbees were friends for many years in Illinois.

Jason Killgore, chief wireless operator on the "City of Para," made a brief call on his father, Allen Killgore of 507 Vine St., Monday. His ship stopped at San Pedro for a few hours while en route from San Francisco to Panama and Jason slipped off to see Dad.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Reynolds of Bartlesville, Okla., are visiting Mr. Reynolds' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Reynolds of 525 South Pacific avenue. They say that Glendale and the business push here look good to them and they are considering the purchase of ranch property.

Mrs. J. W. Durham of 611 W. Elk street received a card yesterday from her son, Murray, of Co. B, 316th Infantry, M. P., 91st Division, saying he was on the way to "Camp Merritt or jail," as he put it in his delight at getting home, having landed last Thursday. He will be at home in two weeks, probably.

Frogs and toads have been the themes of recent study periods in the Agriculture and Nature Study classes in the Glendale Schools. As these lead naturally up to the higher forms of life, notably birds, instructors are congratulating themselves and the children on securing Mr. Hutchins, the bird man, for this week.

Mrs. Francis Henry of Arden avenue is looking forward to the arrival Thursday from Seattle of her cousin, Miss Helen Swope, who has been employed in war work there and has been granted a three weeks' furlough. Mrs. Henry received a telegram Tuesday announcing the good news.

Mrs. Freeman Kelley, who was drafted for jury service for the Superior Court, has been granted a reprieve until June when she will be more free to serve. She did not want to shirk her duty, but as she is chairman of programs for the Tuesday Afternoon Club and greatly depended upon there, her friends united in a plea that she be released for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Wells of Harvard street have been advised that their son, Neal Wells, who is in the Eighth Cavalry, is in the hospital at the Marfa, Texas, camp, recuperating from an accident to his foot and ankle, which will probably keep him there for about three weeks. Meanwhile the Eighth Cavalry has been moved to Fort Bliss which is near El Paso.

Frederick Borncamp of 609 North Louise street, who entered the aviation service during the war, got his ground training at Berkeley and his flying experience at the camp near Sacramento where he was when the armistice was signed, is now a teacher in the Intermediate School where he is substituting for Miss Sinclair. That young lady is recuperating from an attack of influenza and the doctor says will be able to return to her work in about three weeks.

A jolly party of intimate friends went by auto to Matillaja on the Ventura River for a week-end fishing trip and report an exceedingly pleasant outing, though the fish caught were not sensational as to numbers or size. The river is said to be pretty well fished out at that point, which is a popular resort, and the finny dwellers in the river are not biting as they should. The party included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kuntzner, Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. V. McLean Hollister and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Tanner.

A parade of the business streets of Glendale by boys of Union High led by the school band with an auto in the rear bearing a banner advertising the variety show to be given Thursday and Friday by talented students of Union High auditorium, took place at noon today. FLAPPERS AFTER HEROES

(By United Press)

LONDON, April 5. (By Mail).—"Front Line Chorus," composed of winners of Distinguished Service Orders and Military Crosses, is Producer Albert de Courville's happy innovation in the new Hippodrome revue "Joy-Bells." The war has killed the old-fashioned effeminate chorus man, and even the chorus girl has suffered. Instead of mashers rushing to see shapely shoulders and legs, the flappers will be after the military heroes. All the members of the chorus are demobilized officers, and soldiers.

BILL MARPLE HOME TOMORROW

Mrs. Dr. Marple of 215 W. Palmer avenue informs us that a telegram was received today from "Bill," announcing that he would be at home tomorrow, 8:30 a. m. This news will bring widespread rejoicing for he was a popular figure in former Tropico. His magnificent voice gave delight to so many when he was connected with the Central M. E. choir, and his happy disposition won him friends everywhere he went. Bill was connected with Naval Base Hospital No. 3 in Scotland at first, but was later transferred to No. 5 at Brest, France, where he remained till his discharge came.

HIS SEVENTH BIRTHDAY

Little Ralph Cunningham enjoyed a very delightful celebration of his seventh birthday Saturday afternoon when his mother, Mrs. Eva Cunningham, entertained a few of his friends at her home, 114 North Orange street. It was an Easter party in which an Easter egg hunt had a prominent place. Other games were played and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The boys who helped Ralph to celebrate his natal day were: Gordon White, William McRae, Harrington Pratt, Howard Parker, Burnell Yarick, Charles Temple.

COLUMBUS AVE. MOTHERS

Mothers who belong to the Columbus Avenue P.-T. A. are reminded that the association will meet Friday afternoon at 3:15 at the school instead of on Thursday. This change is made because of the district convention of the Congress of Mothers which will be held in Los Angeles on Thursday.

Miss Wooldridge, supervisor of Domestic Science in the grade schools of the city, will be the speaker Friday and will talk on "Lunches." Mrs. Gladys Abbott Stewart will sing. A cake will be bestowed as a prize upon the room which has the largest representation of mothers.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BELINDA B. HOVEY

Monday afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, funeral services conducted by Rev. Charles Scott were held over the remains of Mrs. Belinda B. Hovey, mother of Mrs. J. G. Peart, who passed away Saturday afternoon at the age of 85 years of bronchial pneumonia at the home of her daughter at 111 E. Elk avenue. The Scovern Company was in charge.

CATHOLIC CLUB SMOKER

This evening at the Masonic Temple, the Catholic Club will give a smoker at which the Church Building Committee will report its plans and progress. Admission will be free, there will be no collection taken, and all the Catholic men of the parish and vicinity are invited and urged to attend.

THE LITTLE THINGS

"Cap hair nets? Certainly. Right here," and the smiling proprietor of the Williams Dry Goods Store indicated the notion counter in the heart of the store where a bursting container guaranteed that his claim to carry every shade that would be called for would be made good. "And if you want it's twin, the net face veil, we have that, too," he continued. This notion counter is a kind of key to the store, advertising that Mr. Williams pays attention to the little things. In one section are the mercerized crochet cottons in all numbers and colors, beautiful materials for fancy work, and close by reflecting their rainbow tints are Windsor ties at the wonderfully low price range of 25c to 40c. It is a great store. 197t1

STRANDED IN LONDON

(By United Press)

LONDON, April 5. (By Mail).—Thousands of Americans are stranded in England, unable to get home, despite important business and family engagements in the United States, owing to lack of transport. All the shipping companies are booked up to the middle of May, and reservations are daily becoming more difficult to obtain. The shortage of accommodation is due to the large numbers of American and Canadian soldiers and their wives who are returning home, according to shipping officials.

BIGGEST DOCK IN THE WORLD

(By United Press)

LONDON, April 5. (By Mail).—With the object of regaining for London her former proud position as premier port of the world, a new and enormous dock, capable of accommodating the world's liners, is being constructed on the south side of the Royal Albert Docks. Its water area is to be 64 acres and, by means of a floating caisson, its normal length is capable of extension to 910 feet—and large enough for a bigger boat than even the 868 foot Aquitania.

CANNIBALS TO SEE SELVES IN MOVIES

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 23.—Hungry Island cannibals are going to see themselves as others see them.

He's going to show them to the cannibals and see what happens.

Ever Thought of a Tire Bonus, Mr. Truck Owner?

Say, for example, you gave your driver $1 on every single tire and $2 on every dual for every thousand miles over the maker's guarantee.

How advantageous such an arrangement—you save from $10 to $20 per thousand miles, just by spending a dollar or two.

And fancy your driver—how careful. How he would ease the truck over bumps, how he would refrain from spinning the rear wheels, for instance, lest he grind off dollars.

With GOODRICH DE LUXE Truck Tires under your load and 100% co-operation from your driver, you would write off your original tire investment several times.

—for DE LUXE Truck Tires have in their deep, specially-toughened treads a natural thrift that can easily be broadened by the method advanced.

of the verses of the Bible refer to the Lord's return and are devoted either to his appearance or the results of His appearance. At His first appearing He came unto His own (the Jews) and they received Him not. His second coming is also unlooked for by the majority of the preachers and Christian people.

Many preachers, drawing salaries because they are supposed to be preaching the gospel, are apostate. Some teach that the leaven of the gospel is to leaven the whole, but nowhere in the Bible is leaven used excepting as a corrupting condition. It is never a regenerating force in scripture. Others teach falsely that the Lord has never left the earth. The modernist effort is to eliminate all supernatural from Christ and the Bible. He Himself says that He will come suddenly like a thief in the night. To deny His words is blasphemy. The apostate and skeptical world is full of those who would deny the literal truth of Christ's return.

Let those who believe that the world is growing better study the vile social conditions of Russia today. Look at Germany legalizing and putting a premium upon bastardy. Even in France there is such a movement on foot and in Britain there are those who are juggling with this thing. In California trial marriage licenses have been proposed. Is the world getting better? There is corruption among the nations and there is corruption in church life. The deadness among Christians is amazing. The average church member is like the lazy, trifling Georgia Cracker when it comes to soul winning. A stranger asked a Georgia plantation owner how he could distinguish the Georgia Cracker from others. In reply he pointed to a brown object in the distance and said: "It may be a stone and it may be a Cracker. Watch it for thirty minutes and if in that time it moves it is a stone." This lukewarm state is now on the church. "So then because thou art luke-warm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spew thee out of my mouth." There is in this age a lack of applied spirituality. Are the world, the church and the ministry growing more spiritual? All the infidelity and skepticism of Ingersol, Paine and Voltaire are being preached now by theological scholars. The fact is that the saints are growing better and the rest of the world is growing worse. Statistics show that crime is increasing. The spirit of lawlessness is increasing. The leaven of damnation is at work.

The fig tree is used as a symbol of the Jewish nation. "When his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh. So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that it is near, even at the door,—but of that day and hour knoweth no man, no not the angels of heaven, but my Father only." Look at the awakening in Armenia, Syria and Palestine. This condition arises out of the present war. The allies have promised the Jews a homeland. God says He will call them back from the four corners of the earth and they are going back. They are going prepared to rebuild their temple and it is found that in the back of many of their shops, many a stone is being prepared by number and these stones can be taken back ready for the building. One wealthy American Jew has promised the railroad fare for two million of his people to return. These are signs of His coming.

Immediately upon His coming in the air those who are asleep in Him shall arise, and following immediately upon this first resurrection the bodies of living believers shall be changed into the likeness of the body of His glory, free from earthly limitations. With these changed bodies the believers will be caught up together to meet the Lord in the air and so shall they ever be with the Lord. "Beloved now are we the children of God, and it is not yet made manifest what we shall be. We know that if He shall be manifested, we shall be like Him for we shall see Him even as He is." He will draw us by His spiritually magnetic power as the magnet draws the needles scattered among the pins in a bed of dust. (There is nothing in real demonstrable science that clashes with the truth of God). When the saints are taken away all restraint will be gone. Anti-Christ will be leader.

Love not the world neither the things that are in the world. God awaken the people today. Thank God He is coming soon. One shall be taken and the other left. May your heart be fixed on Jesus and be ready to greet Him. Come quickly Lord Jesus.

POISON STORY OF PRINCE'S DEATH SIGNALLED RISING

(By United Press)

TOKYO, March 20. (By Mail).—Americans just arrived from Seoul have brought copies from a manifesto published there March 1st, proclaiming the independence of the former kingdom of Korea. Publication of the manifesto, which expresses great bitterness against Japan, has been prohibited to the newspapers in Tokyo by the Home Office authorities. This proclamation urged Japan to grant independence to Korea for Japan's sake as well as for that of Korea and as a step to make certain the peace of the Orient. Such a move on the part of Japan, says the manifesto, would forever remove the smouldering doubts of the 400,000,000 people in China and would show Japan forth as the true "Protector of the East."

The uprisings, in connection with which the first manifesto was published in the former Korean capital, have spread to all parts of the peninsula, and the latest reports are that they are still growing worse and there is little hope for an early restoration of order.

The disturbances started in connection with the preliminary ceremonies of the funeral of the Grand Prince Yi, former Emperor of Korea, who died January 21st. Though little reverence was shown the Grand Prince while he lived, after his death a rumor spread over the country which made him at once a national hero. According to the story, the aged Prince did not die of apoplexy, but of poison which he took in order that his death might forestall the wedding of his son to one of the Imperial Princesses of Japan, for it is a custom among the Koreans that a son may not marry for three years after his father's death. The Grand Prince's death occurred just four days before the imperial wedding was to take place in Tokyo, where the bride-groom-to-be had already arrived with his suite.

Though the riots in Seoul and elsewhere have been minimized by the Minister of Communications, Mr. Noda, who went to Korea to represent the Japanese Government at the royal funeral, they have been serious enough to lead to several deaths at various places and to numerous arrests. According to some of the Tokyo papers, several American missionaries have been arrested and are under secret examination, being suspected of having instigated the Korean uprisings.

Japanese officials say that the Korean riots were started by the Chundo Kyu cult (Teachings of Heavenly Ways), whose adherents, they say, have long been trying to obtain independence from Japan. Followers of this cult are variously reported to number from 1,000,000 to 3,000,000 Koreans.

The manifesto published in Seoul called upon the people to refrain from all violence, and a sort of passive resistance to Japanese authority has marked all the demonstrations. Korean youths and girls are refusing to attend the schools, and among the arrests have been several students of the Government Higher Girls' School. The Koreans are entirely without arms, and American witnesses of the Seoul demonstrations say that the crowds were not dangerous except when goaded to violence.

The Koreans say, according to reports, that the manifesto of March 1st will be followed by others. Thirty-three prominent men of Seoul signed the proclamation, including members of the Chun-do Kyu, Buddhists, Confucianists, Protestants and Roman Catholics. All of these who could be found were at once arrested along with other Korean leaders.

An American business man who has just returned from Seoul gave the following description of the imperial funeral:

"The funeral of the late Grand Prince was a memorable sight, but the most impressive thing about it was the great crowd of Koreans who thronged the city. We were told that there were at least 100,000 Korean farmers in the city for the day, all of whom had walked in, some from great distances.

"I went over the road between Seoul and Kimkokri, where the Grand Prince was buried, the day before the Koreans passed over it, and I saw 50,000 Koreans all dressed in white, from children of 4 years to old men of 70, rebuilding the road along its entire length of 30 miles. All these worked as volunteers, to show their last respect for their former Emperor. It was a great tribute to his memory.
